WILL'S QUESTS

Look you now, through the mists of time, to an age when our world was threatened by dread beasts and eternal darkness. Then, indeed, was the land of Avalot sore beset, and her brave King Mobray sent forth all the bold Knights to defend his innocent people. Yet they were too few. Came at last a dauntless young lad, and he did train every hour, every day, to become a Knight. Mobray and all of Avalot watched with great hope as this youth, called Will, grew in might and wisdom, until the day he faced the Challenge and became a true Knight — one of the last. Now did the King summon Will, and name him a list of quests facing wizards, beasts, and perilous adventure. And so it was that Avalot's future depended entirely upon this one young Knight.

As Will did once learn, this method is effective on Mush Boys and Hard Shells.

Falcon Attack

Now shall Will boldly raise high his keen sword and bring it down on the foe's head!

Usage:

Imps and Harpies are most easily vanquished with this brave attack.

Eagle Attack

Will does take a flying leap, so to throw his body weight behind his sword thrust.

Usage:

The ancients truly say to try this attack on Green Slimes and Gray Oozes.

SHOPS

Though the people of Avalot live in constant peril, many shops are still in business and do sell those things that questing Knights rightly need. Because of the troubled times, each shop can only manage to keep a few special items in stock. And to hide themselves from thieves and villains, the shopkeepers do build their little shops in unusual or out-of-the-way places. Sir Will must try to find each shop, or else he shall miss many necessary and powerful items, such as Sword 4. To begin, the young Knight should visit those two shops located right in the Royal City and buy the various things a Knight needs to successfully go a-questing.

Like all good Knights, Will buys only those weapons and items for which he has enough gold. Do you use the cursor to select what you wish to purchase, and then press A. Your purchase is added to Will's Quest Items, and his gold reduced.

INNS

As with all Knights striving mightily to hold off the doom that threatens fair Avalot, Will must needs rest upon occasion and restore his Hit Points. The Inns still remain open to all good people, offering food and drink, sleeping rooms, and protection from the wicked beasts that wander the land. And indeed, the Innkeepers are always happy to see a Knight come visiting. That means better business for them, because people like to share company with a Knight and hear his tales of valor and bold deeds. Therefore, and also to do their part in saving Avalot, all the Innkeepers have rightly decided to charge Mobray's Knights the same low price.

Will's Questing Handbook

Sir Will's First Quest is to Defeat the Wild Goblin King...

The Royal City

Indeed, the wise Will knows that before questing, a Knight should go shopping. If he has chosen to have "many" gold pieces, he can buy good weaponry. He should also talk to the citizens of the Royal City to learn what they know, and even visit an Inn.

Avoid the West until Will can gain new levels.

To North Woods

1ST STEP

That they may earn higher experience levels, the new Knights go even up to the North Woods to practice, and so sharpen their skills by defeating live beasties.

2ND STEP

The bridge guardian of the north is indeed a perilous foe. Yet Will must truly pass him, either through battle brave or careful avoidance.

3RD STEP

Will must needs find and explore the great and dread North Cave. Therein shall he face foul monsters and dangerous pathways that have confused many a more experienced Knight.

4TH STEP

To complete his brave quest, Will must now hunt down and defeat the Wild Goblin King. He should first, though, be at level 5 and have much magic or medicine at his command.

Will's Second Quest is to Investigate the North Cape...

For lo! A vast Tower has now suddenly appeared at the North Cape, as Will can plainly see on his Avalot Map. King Mobray is deeply concerned, as indeed he knows that magic most wicked must have been involved. It is Will's solemn duty to discover who built the Tower and carry this information to his worried King. Avalot's fate seems only to grow darker.

Vast Tower

1ST STEP

Will must take the bridge that leads to the North Cave, and then go west to reach the North Cape. And he should ever speak to the people he meets, explore, and add to his experience.

2ND STEP

By speaking in a kind and chivalrous manner to the right people, Will can indeed learn how and where to find the key that will let him into the Tower. He should get it first.

3RD STEP

As Will does struggle mightily toward the top of the Tower, as truly he should, he must beware of the very holes in the floor. If he steps on one, he shall be sent back to the front door.

4TH STEP

When Will does find the builder of this vast Tower, Pierre, he learns that the fiend plans to fight King Mobray! Before Pierre grows too strong, Will must attack with SeaGull.

Will's Third Quest is to Get Help From Tabasa . . .

Tabasa is a mysterious, powerful woman, perhaps the last member of an ancient race of wizards. Mobray does need her help if he is truly to save Avalot. Will must soon find her, but she lives at the foot of the Great Mountains. He shall visit new regions, and fight his way through a haunted mansion.

TABASA, THE WITCH?
SHE LIVES DEEP IN THE MOUNTAINS SOUTH OF THIS TOWN!

WILL L11 WEST TOWN
H128/178 G0463

A most important shop is hidden somewhere in the grim depths of this graveyard. Will should search for it.

Will's Fourth Quest is to Rescue the Princess . . .

King Mobray is filled with despair. Avalot's enemies have stolen his fair daughter away, leaving him a broken man. That he might save Avalot and her King, Will must rescue the Princess.

WILL: WHAT HAPPENED, SIR?
KING: WHILE YOU WERE GONE-- MY DAUGHTER WAS KIDNAPPED!
WILL: THE PRINCESS?!

Yet one more Quest awaits Will!
